

WHAT'S THE BEST WAY TO COLLECT OUR STUFF?

SINGLE HAULER AND OPEN MARKET: THE DEBATE

Is there a way to increase waste diversion efforts by defining the ways and means of collection processes? Policies like single-hauler collection and pay-as-you-throw (PAYT) are being discussed state-wide; some communities are strongly in favor while others push back. If your community participates, or is considering single-hauler trash and recycling, this session is for you.

SESSION DATE:

Tuesday, June 5

SESSION TIME:

10:15 AM

ROUND TABLE SPONSOR

FACILITATORS

Laurie Johnson, Executive Director, Colorado Association for Recycling

SUBJECT-MATTER EXPERTS

- Andrew Moore, Regional Sales Manager, Rehrig Pacific Company - Rehrig works with subscription and single-hauler markets collecting data.
- Mark Petrovich, Manager Municipal Services, Republic Services - Republic has both single-hauler contracts and subscription-market service.
- Charlotte Pitt, Recycling/Solid Waste Manager, City & County of Denver - Denver provides full trash and recycling curbside service to its residents.
- Doug Short, Public Works Director, City of Lafayette - The City of Lafayette currently contracts with a single hauler for curbside service.
- Scott Hutchings, Director-Government Affairs, Waste Management - Waste Management services multiple subscription markets in Colorado.
- Susan Finzel-Aldred, Environmental Coordinator, Pueblo Department of Public Health and Environment - Pueblo is a subscription market with multiple haulers.

