

ORGANICS DIVERSION WITHOUT MARKETS EQUALS WHAT?

DEVELOPING MARKETS FOR COMPOST

This round table focuses on the responsibility of industry and local, rural and state governments to develop markets for compost as part of the promotion of organics collection and diversion.

SESSION DATE:

Tuesday, June 5

FACILITATOR

Charles Kamenides, Sanitation Manager, City of Longmont

SESSION TIME:

10:15 AM

SUBJECT-MATTER EXPERTS

- Greg Fischer, Landscape Architect, Colorado Department of Transportation - CDOT has in-house landscape architects and landscape specialists who provide project development support and program services.
- Bryce Isaacson, Vice President Sales and Marketing, Western Disposal Services - Western Disposal offers trash, recycling and composting services to residents and businesses throughout Boulder and Broomfield counties.
- Dan Matsch, CHaRM Facility and Compost Department Director, Eco-Cycle - Eco-Cycle is one of the largest non-profit recyclers in the USA and has an international reputation as a pioneer and innovator in resource conservation.
- Ruth Watts, Sales and Business Development, BASF Biopolymers North America - BASF produces plastic products that disappear completely when composted in a controlled environment.
- Bob Yost, Vice President and Chief Technical Officer, A1 Organics - A1 Organics is family-owned and operated since 1974 providing home gardens, commercial landscapers, agriculturalists, municipalities and institutions with organic composts, soils, mulches, and organic recycling services.

ROUND TABLE SPONSOR

